Should we tell him that they can't believe that a seasoned vet would up with 2 kids?

What you can point out is taht that's not what they're asking about when they ask about full time or not. Everyone is entitled to vacation, and they haven't asked us how much vacation time we're getting. Quite a number of VCs take extended vacations from time to time, and some try to do so every year. I've never heard it brought up as anything other than an issue among the partners. But when the partners are fine with it, it's much less of a deal, if a deal at all, especially when the 2.5 month off partner is still very available via email and phone.
